

Share Documents and Files with Anyone

eDocsOnline.com* allows you to securely share documents and files on the Internet. Collaboration with your co-workers, business partners and friends is now convenient, secure and effective.

✓ Send Link to Document via e-mail

The system automatically generates the document link and sends it via e-mail. Hassles of bounced e-mail are avoided. The size of your files is no longer critical. And, what is of key importance, the included link is much more secure than any e-mail attachment, which is simply unsafe by its very nature.

✓ Share Documents and Unite Your Team

Sharing within the company has never been so easy. You can open a colleague's document for review and allow others to download, view and edit your documents and files. Unite your team by letting it access and share company info from a branch office or even from home.

✓ Collaborate with Co-workers and Business Partners

Instantaneous and timely sharing of information makes collaboration with co-workers and business partners convenient, secure and effective. And don't forget that you can easily maintain access control at every step.

✓ Set up a Notification Process and Keep Your Team Up-to-Date

Set up a notification process and be alerted immediately when a document is changed. Keep the whole team up-to-date. It does not matter where you and your colleagues are: on a business trip, at home or in an office.

Once your files and documents are stored in eDocsOnline.com, it is very easy to share them securely with friends and family or within your company without the need to purchase, configure or maintain a firewall or VPN. Share documents privately and securely using the permission-based access level system. You always have total control over your documents and files - have them completely locked or distributed by posting a link.

Send the latest pictures to your family or share important documents with co-workers, remote workers and business partners. The possibilities are almost endless.

Post your corporate policy, annual forecasts, reports, logos and templates so that employees can stay well informed. Project teams can have access to the latest documents. Remote sales teams can share price sheets, order forms, inventory and sales presentations. Human Resources can store vacation request forms, time slips or the employee handbook for easy access. Share files quickly and easily, and always stay on track and on schedule.

Whether you are in the office, on the road, at home or at the client's office you always have instantaneous access to the most up-to-date information available. This allows you to focus on your business and customers, and to be more creative and experimental!
